++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Clear or sunny spells and rain or showers at times.

This Evening and Tonight:
Thickening cloud will bring occasional rain to most areas overnight. This will turn showery with some limited clear spells. Chance of some heavy downpours and it may turn misty, especially across higher ground of Derbyshire. Mild, with light winds. Minimum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Monday:
Rain mostly dying out then another day of sunshine and showers, with these slow-moving and potentially thundery, especially later in the afternoon. Light winds. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Isolated showers could develop Tuesday afternoon, but these will be fewer and lighter than on Monday. Turning more settled from midweek with more in the way of strong sunshine.
